⁽¹⁾ The portion of distributions that exceeds the Company’s current and accumulated earnings and profits, as measured on a tax basis, constitute a non-taxable return of capital.

⁽²⁾ The portion of distributions that are reportable for tax purposes in 2024.

Qualified Dividend Income

None of the Company’s ordinary income distributions represent qualified dividend income for individual shareholders.

Dividends Received Deduction

None of the Company’s ordinary income distributions qualify for the dividend received deduction for corporate shareholders.

Section 163(j) Interest Dividends

98.82% of the Company’s ordinary income distributions may qualify as Section 163(j) interest dividends. Please note that tax regulations under section 163(j) impose holding period requirements with respect to certain funds and whether the percentages listed will qualify as business interest with respect to a particular shareholder.

Interest-Related Dividends

85.23% of the Company’s ordinary income distributions qualify as interest-related dividends for non-US shareholders.

Distributions that were paid in the Company’s common stock or reinvested through the Company’s Dividend Reinvestment Plan are treated in the same manner, for tax purposes, as if they had been paid in cash. Therefore, stockholders who received distribution in the Company’s common stock or participated in the Dividend Reinvestment Plan should also refer to the table above for appropriate tax treatment of 2023 dividends.

This tax status letter is not intended to constitute tax, legal, investment, or other professional advice. This is general information and should not be relied upon for tax purposes. Stockholders should be aware that tax treatment is subject to change by law in the future or retroactively. Stockholders should consult their tax advisor for tax guidance pertinent to specific facts and circumstances.
